You are presented with the results of the training quiz as soon as you submit it. The answers that you selected are marked in blue text. The correct answers have a green checkmark, while the incorrect ones have a red crossed mark. If you answered the question correctly, you'd see a green check mark next to the blue text. If you answered incorrectly, you'd see a red X next to the incorrect blue response and a green checkmark next to the incorrect response that was not selected.
